

It's been almost four months now, and I can't cease to be amazed. We knew it was going to be good, we believed in it and we went for it.

I'm trying to think of a word to summarize it and that word might be "magnitude". The fishing on the Limay River totally exceeded our most optimistic expectations. We were not aware of the magnitude of the fishing quality and consistency, all what we are experiencing right now, as I write this text.

Like I've been telling friends... lately, on the Limay, it's been hard to catch a fish under twenty inches. And these fish are in fabulous condition. They fight like hell! And they love to feed on the surface. Resident rainbows range between 19 and 23+ inches and resident browns can get as big as 28 inches or even more. And they'll attack attractors like there is no tomorrow. There are also great mayfly and caddis hatches that will invite you to match them. Streamers have also worked well, especially on big early migrating browns. The river is packed with food of all sorts, and therefore it's packed with great fish too. My arm is hurting at the end of the day... of playing fish! This is what I mean by magnitude: the magnitude of the experience!

Now we are starting to focus on the migratory browns that are gradually growing in numbers as we are approaching our fall, yet we'll still be fishing dries all we want...hatches are great in the fall too! It is "two rivers in one".

FROM LIMAY RIVER LODGE WE CAN ACCESS ALL 60 MILES OF
THE MIDDLE LIMAY

And, luckily, the lodge ended up being on the exact right spot... where it had to be: right in the very middle. From Limay River Lodge we can access all 60 miles of the Middle Limay. We went for it and we found it. But we found it because we went for it (once again...).

What I'm presently experiencing at Limay River Lodge is something I didn't think would happen to me any more in my life. But it is happening. And it reminds me of four decades back when I was discovering pools and places..., those good old days that I thought were long gone.

Well, the Limay experience has dwarfed everything I'd experienced before... And it is only the beginning...

Bring a lot of backing!

Cheers!
